Of main interests to us is the use of mining as a part of in-situ resource utilization, that is: making it easier to industrialize and colonize space by removing the need to pay the sky-high delta-V cost of lugging raw materials up Terra's gravity well. Devil In The Dark (1967) The Horta was an example of Silicon life. Now we are really sailing off into terra incognita. "Here be dragons" and all that. [Note for TomDispatch Readers: Here's a reminder that you can still get a signed, personalized copy of Alfred McCoy's remarkable Dispatch Book, In the Shadows of the American Century: The Rise and Decline of U.S. Global Power, for a donation to this site of $100 ($125 if you live outside the U.S.). As if misophonia wasn't enough, many of us suffer from a related condition called misokinesia. If misophonia is best defined as a 'hatred' of certain sounds, misokinesia is probably best defined as a 'hatred' of certain movements.
